

Fish maw, also known as Yu Piu or Fa Gau is the dried swim bladders of a large fish. This is one ancient Chinese delicacy that is known for its aesthetic purposes other than being a Chinese ingredient. Also, fish maw is among the top four sea delicacies in Asia.

Fish maw is generally used to complement your dish because of its ability to soak up the flavors from your dish. Also, it contains collagen, which is known to enhance beauty by improving skin quality. Additionally, it is rich in protein while leaving out the fishy taste and smell that is common in fish products.

Packing: 1 x 10 kg,
Wild Sizes: 2-5 gr., 6-8 gr., 9-11 gr., 12-14 gr., 15-17 gr.

Latin name: Gadus Morhua

Shelf-life: 24 months from production date when in optimal temperature.

Fishing method: Artisanal net. FAO 77

Origin: Vietnam

Form: Totally clean. Wild Caught

Season: Jan-Dec

QUALITY | SUSTAINABILITY | RELIABILITY | INTEGRITY